Arrangement:

The papers have been arranged into the following seven series:

Early Printing in Missouri

Returned Items

Correspondence

Book Sale Lists

Miscellaneous Printed Material

Book Sale Correspondence

Scrapbooks

Scope and Content Note:

The Early Printing in Missouri series contains two copies of Early Printing in Missouri, 1808-1849, compiled by Breckenridge and Francis Asbury Sampson. The publication is comprised of lists of articles printed, where, when, and by whom, as well as a list of periodicals published in Missouri.

The Returned Items series consists of materials recovered after the Lawrence Lingle theft of items from the scrapbooks and the unworked boxes. Recovered materials were placed in these folders when their original locations could not be determined. These items include autograph letters; a sample written by the Automation Writer at the American Museum, New York, in 1845; a presidential election notice from 1836; a prisoner of war parole form for members of the Trans-Mississippi Department; correspondence; publications; and miscellaneous materials. This series is arranged chronologically.

The Correspondence series consists of correspondence with Francis A. Sampson, secretary for the State Historical Society of Missouri and a card file describing each item the Society purchased from Breckenridge. The letters are arranged chronologically and concern buying books and collecting material bearing on Missouri history for the Society and miscellaneous Society business. References to the Missouri Historical Society in St. Louis and its acquisitions, details of Sampson's travels, family, fossil collection, and his relationships with the Society's finance committee and trustees are also included in the letters.

The Book Sale List series contains book sale lists of W.W. Nesbit, owner of the Shakespeare Book Shop in St. Louis.

The Miscellaneous Printed Material series consists of book sale announcements, State Historical Society of Missouri circulars, programs for meetings of various historical societies, pamphlets on collecting strategies, materials related to politics, the temperance movement, labor unions, religion, and the military.

The Book Sale Correspondence series contains correspondence with various book deals, institutions, and individuals regarding sale of books, broadsides, pamphlets, and manuscripts from Breckenridge's collection of Americana. Filed alphabetically by correspondent, the letters describe in detail items for sale and include historical information on states, churches, authors, and family genealogies. These letters also contains information on the publishers and printer and bookbinding methods used on the items for sale.

Of note in this series is a list of pamphlets and broadsides relating to the political, educational, and social activities of African Americans from 1849 to 1879. Other prominent topics include Mormons, railroads, and the American West.

The Scrapbooks series has been microfilmed and consists of newspaper clippings and illustrations, engravings, letters, and miscellaneous printed materials. Dates are not consecutive. There is an emphasis on St. Louis and Missouri history, poetry and picture collections, cartoons, and Joseph R. Meeker, a St. Louis artist.
