Carl Crow Papers
(C0041)

Collection Number: C0041

Collection Title: Carl Crow Papers

Dates: 1913-1945

Creator: Crow, Carl, 1883-1945

Abstract: Bills, accounts, speeches, notes, correspondence and book and article manuscripts on a wide range of subjects. Crow was a resident of China for a number of years and most of his writing was about China or related subjects. The collection includes a diary of a trip over the Burma Road, the diary of a Japanese soldier, and notes and articles on the Japanese opium trade.

Collection Size: 5 cubic feet, 4 oversize volumes (354 folders, 2 volumes)

Language: Collection materials are in English.

Repository: The State Historical Society of Missouri

Restrictions on Access: Collection is open for research. This collection is available at The State Historical Society of Missouri Research Center-Columbia. If you would like more information, please contact us at columbia@shsmo.org. Collections may be viewed at any research center.

Restrictions on Use: The donor has given and assigned to the University all rights of copyright, which the donor has in the Materials and in such of the Donor’s works as may be found among any collections of Materials received by the University from others.

Preferred Citation: [Specific item; box number; folder number] Carl Crow Papers (C0041); The State Historical Society of Missouri Research Center-Columbia [after first mention may be abbreviated to SHSMO-Columbia].

Donor Information: The papers were donated to the University of Missouri by Roma Crow Walters on July 31, 1945 (Accession No. CA0253).

Processed by: Processed by The State Historical Society of Missouri-Columbia staff, date unknown. Finding Aid revised by John C. Konzal, April 17, 2020
Historical Note:

Carl Crow was born in Highland, Missouri, on 26 September 1883. His parents were George Washington Crow and Elvira Jane Sharrock. In 1906, after working as a printer and having owned a newspaper, he entered the University of Missouri’s School of Journalism. He worked for a time on the Columbia Missourian and went to China in 1911 as city editor of the China Press, the first American daily in China. After 18 months, he returned to New York and did magazine work.

In 1913, Crow went to Tokyo to work on the Japan Advertiser, returning in 1914 to New York to again write for magazines. He moved to California in 1915, and purchased a small fruit farm. He sold it upon America’s entry into World War I and went to the Far East as head of the Far Eastern Division of the Committee on Public Information. After the war, he established and edited the Shanghai Evening Post and later opened an advertising agency which he headed until his departure from Shanghai when the Japanese invaded. Crow returned to the United States where he published several books and articles. He returned once more to China on a visit, this time via the Burma Road to Chungking. He also made a trip to South America.

In 1925, Crow married Helen M. Hanniger, who died in November 1941. Crow died after a long illness on 8 June 1945.

Arrangement:

The collection has been arranged into the following seven series:

Bills
Clippings
Compositions and Notes
Correspondence
Miscellaneous
Speeches
Scrapbooks

Scope and Content Note:

Most of the papers, correspondence, and manuscripts in this collection are from the period of Crow’s life after his departure from China. In addition to finished articles, the papers include outlines and notes. The correspondence is mostly concerned with the publication of Crow’s books and articles, his lecture tours, and his efforts to assist Chinese relief.

More complete descriptions of the series are in the container list.

Container List:

Bills Series

f. 1 Bills and accounts covering storage and disposal of Crow’s household goods in Shanghai, decoration of his New York apartment, books, and transfer of real estate, 1938-1944
Clippings Series

f. 2-6 Reviews of Crow’s books, clippings of stories about China and the Far East, and miscellaneous subjects.

Compositions and Notes Series

f. 7-28 Unpublished manuscripts
  f. 7-10 China, After Forty Centuries or China-Forty Centuries Young. Introduction, chapter outline, Chapters 1-3, part of Chapter 4, Chapters 15-17.
  f. 11-12 History of the American Magazine. Four chapters: “Magazines without Readers,” “Magazines Find Readers,” “Pure Food and Drug Law,” and “Notes on Magazine Men and Women.”
  f. 13 Japan. Two chapters: “Foundations of Japan” and “The Forty Seven.”
  f. 14-15 Sons of Han. Two chapters: “Infanticide” and “Father Huc.”
  f. 16-17 William Wheelwright. Outline for the book; typed copy of Chapters 1-6; manuscript copy of Chapters 2-14; copy of Chapter 1, unrevised; and notes on Wheelwright, Newburyport, Massachusetts, and various businesses in which Wheelwright was interested.
  f. 28 You Can’t Make Friends with Japan. Outline and specimen chapter.
  f. 29-40 Articles on various phases of life and politics in China
  f. 29-32 “Advertising Meets War and Survives;” “American Saints and Chinese Sinners;” “And the Japanese Helped Us Do It” (rough draft); “Can China Fight For A Hundred Years?”; “China’s Homeless Millions Find A Home;” “Chungking and Chinese Migration;” “Homes for China’s Homeless Millions;” and “China’s Homeless Millions Find New Homes.”
  f. 40 Two articles, one untitled, recounting the story of a Mr. Ling of Hangchow and his experiences with the Japanese troops and in fleeing from them. Article, “Japan Would Enslave China,” by Dr. Wang Chung-hui, written in Chungking, June 16, 1939.
  f. 41-44 Short stories
  f. 41 Six Pidgin English short stories written by Crow for Liberty. Adaptations of children’s stories or legends.
  f. 45-48 Notes on various phases of Chinese character, austerity, age, language, and women. Includes two articles, “The Great War in China,” dealing with World War I, and “President Wilson’s Eyes and Ears.”
Notes on Russell & Company, a Shanghai mercantile firm, its development and failure.

Chungking diary. Diary of Crow’s trip into China via the Buram Road in the summer of 1941. Daily account as kept by Crow and later rewritten for publication.

Eight articles written by Crow on the Far East. “Burma–Beautiful Battleground;” “Burma–Spoiled Child of the Tropics;” “Five Hundred Miles in Seven Days” (an account of part of Crow’s trip over the Buram Road); “Hope Dawns in Unhappy Korea;” “Japan’s Secret War” (written about Burma); “The Philippines Under the Japanese Bootheel;” “Six Thousand Miles in Six Days” (account of Crow’s journey to Burma to travel into China via the Burma Road); and “Under the Heel of Japan” (about the Philippine Islands).

Seven articles on Japan by Crow: “The Diary of Keisi Oriyama” (the complete diary of a Japanese soldier as translated); “Hirohito, The Mystery Man;” “His Imperial Japanese Majesty;” “Japan Monkeys with Religion;” “Pampered Prisoners of Japan;” “Private Oriyama Fights for Japan” (excerpts from the diary of Oriyama); and “The Puzzling Japanese Mind.”

“Japan’s Record” by Henry H. Douglas, a discussion of the history of Japanese foreign policy and diplomacy. “Post War Relations with Japan” by Sir George B. Sansom, a discussion of problems that will be encountered after Japan’s defeat. The latter paper was presented at the eighth conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations, December 1942.

Notes, copies of articles, laws, speeches, and reports on the opium traffic in Japanese-occupied China.

Notes on Japanese propaganda and on Japanese atrocities in China.

A brief action synopsis of the screen adaptation of 400,000,000 Customers and a copy of the screen adaption. 400,000,000 Customers was written by Crow, and concerns advertising and his experiences as an ad man in China.

Incomplete articles and brief outlines of article suggestions: The Advertising Bunk Pile; The American Farmer: Americans Christianize the World; Are We Returning To Feudalism; The Battle for the Ether; The Builders of Modern Asia; Export of American Brains: Grandpa Treated ‘Em Rough; If Shakespeare came to Town; Johnnie Appleseed—Typical American; Let’s Start a Factory; Must We Have A Dictator; A New Job for the Post Office; Organized Brotherhood; Rip Van Winkle Returns; The Story of a Farm; Three Great Danes; The Wood Pulp Belt Moves South.

Miscellaneous notes: notes and jottings for Great American Customer; postcard tours; The Story of American Liberty; The Story of British North America; South America; and miscellaneous jottings.
Most of the correspondence pertains to the writing and publication of books and articles. Correspondence with his representative, Nancy Parker. Comments on his books and articles, letters about opium and Japanese atrocities. Correspondence with W. Colston Leigh, lecture agent, concerning lecture tours. Correspondence pertaining to South American trip and trip to China. Letters about J.B. Powell, Phineas Miller, Harris M. Lyon, William Wheelwright, and Henry Meigs. Personal letters from his family.

f. 130 Undated correspondence concerning articles and books. Personal letters from family.

f. 131-132 1913-1929. Letters in answer to Crow’s request for photographs of authors for the American Club in Shanghai, China.

f. 139-140 Harris M. Lyon work. W. Colston Leigh, lecture agent.

f. 143 American Council Institute of Pacific Relations.

f. 144-146 Comments on books.

f. 148 Correspondence with Webster Publishing Com. about History of Orient textbook.

f. 150 The Bell Syndicate, Inc., Author Statement. Comments on 400 Million Customers.

f. 154 Gold of Babylon. Comments on books.

f. 155-165 1939. Correspondence about chemical warfare and narcotic conditions in the Far East. Correspondence on opium.

f. 158 Letters written while in China.

f. 159 Letters concerning Beveridge Memorial Prize.

f. 161 Medical relief in China. Peter B. Kyne letter.

f. 162 Citizenship for Younghill Kang.

f. 164 Terms of W. Colston Leigh. Chemistry and War by A. Gibson.

f. 165 Writers Glossary. Maurice Williams United Council for Civilian Relief in China. Dr. Logan Clendening letter pertaining to opium warfare. Correspondence with friends in Shanghai. Alvin Wortham.

f. 167 Names of institutions and individuals who are authentic on Chinese affairs. Japanese terrorism or atrocities.
f. 168 Evans F. Carlson tells of atrocities.
f. 169 Letters about books and articles.
f. 176 Correspondence pertaining to trip to South America. List of countries in South American for which United States government has manufactured coins.
f. 177 Will L. Smith experience in South America. Data on telephone service in South American countries.

f. 179-190 1941. Comments on Chungking diary. Correspondence concerning lecture tour. Excerpts from requests for Carl Crow’s script. Correspondence concerning writing of books and articles on South America.

f. 182 Correspondence pertaining to lectures and articles.

f. 183 Figures on population of Ecuador. Attitude of the people of Argentina on world affairs.

f. 184 General correspondence on books and articles.

f. 187 Background of Neiman-Marcus store in Dallas, Texas. United China Relief. Letter from J.B. Powell.

f. 189 Criticisms on “South Americans.”

f. 194 J.B. Powell. Correspondence concerning writing of books and war work.

f. 196 Machine for printing and typewriting Chinese by L.H. Amdur.

f. 197-203 1943. Publication of Sunpao by N.F. Allman. Story about the way machinery and mass production have affected the American way of life.

f. 198 Correspondence pertaining to the writing of books on American industry.

f. 201 Letters about William Wheelwright and Henry Meigs.

f. 202 Paul G. Hoffman address on post-war plans.

f. 203 Personal letters and letter from P.W. Han on Korean farmers.

f. 205 Comments on books.

f. 206-208 Letters about Ching and The City of Flint Grows Up.

f. 209 General correspondence concerning lectures and writing.

f. 210 1945. General correspondence concerning the writing of books and articles.

Miscellaneous Series

f. 211 Lecture contracts, itineraries, and correspondence with W. Colston Leigh, Inc., lecture bureau, pertaining to Crow’s lecture tours.

f. 212-215 Advertisements for books, Crow’s speeches, book samples, samples of illustrations, picture of Crow, and other personal trivia.

Speeches Series

f. 216-354 Five speeches made by Crow, c. 1940.

  f. 216 Chungking visit via the Burma Road.

  f. 217 Writing and printing in China, a broadcast for London made in Chungking, and a radio speech also on China.

  f. 218 “The Role of the Far East in the World Crisis” a speech made by Crow, February 24, 1941, before the Economic Club of Detroit.

f. 219-354 Duplicates.

Scrapbooks Series

v. 1-6 Scrapbooks of Carl Crow, journalist, writer, lecturer and advertising man, who lived in the Orient. Contains personal items and reviews of his books.

Index:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Folders</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Burma</td>
<td>55-71,72-78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Canada</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>China</td>
<td>1-10,14-15,29-71,167-168</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>China, Shanghai</td>
<td>1,54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clendening, Logan (1884-1945)</td>
<td>165</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crow, Carl (1883-1945)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Food—Law and legislation</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Japan</td>
<td>13, 28, 79-96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Korea</td>
<td>72-78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lyon, Harris Merton (1883-1916)</td>
<td>134-137, 139, 140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Massachusetts, Newberrypoint</td>
<td>16-27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Opium</td>
<td>85-95, 161-165, 170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philippines</td>
<td>72-78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Powell, John Benjamin (1886-1947)</td>
<td>141, 187, 193, 194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarvis, Guy Walter</td>
<td>137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shanghai-American Club</td>
<td>131, 132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Subject</td>
<td>Folders</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-----------------------------</td>
<td>---------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South America</td>
<td>125-127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wheelwright, William</td>
<td>16-27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World War, 1914-1918</td>
<td>45-48</td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>