Historical Note:

The Farmers Bank of Mt. Vernon, Missouri, was organized by William A. and George A. McCanse on 14 June 1890. William A. McCanse was an early Missouri merchant doing business under the names of McCanse and Kendall (1861-1875); Bray, McCanse, and Paris (1869-1873); and Wm. A. McCanse and Co. (1876-?). He was also the largest land owner in Lawrence County, Missouri. His sons operated a mercantile firm from 1890 to 1900 under the name of McCanse Brothers. George A. McCanse was Lawrence County treasurer in 1890. He also had been cashier for the Mt. Vernon Bank, but left that position when he and his father founded the Farmers Bank. The officers of the bank were William A. McCanse, president; R.H. Landrum, vice president; and Joseph B. Kindsay, cashier. George A. McCanse later became the cashier, and he and his father retained their positions for many years.
