Thomas Francis Eagleton was born in St. Louis, Missouri, on 4 September 1929, to Zitta Swanson and Mark D. Eagleton. He graduated from St. Louis Country Day School in 1946. After high school he joined the United States Navy, serving two years. Eagleton graduated from Amherst College in 1950 with an A.B. degree. A year later he was awarded a certificate from Oxford University and in 1953 he received an LL.B. degree from Harvard Law School. Eagleton married Barbara Ann Smith of St. Louis on 26 January 1956. A son, Terence, was born in 1959, and a daughter, Christin, was born in 1960.

After graduating from law school, Eagleton entered private law practice in St. Louis with his father. He later became associated with the legal department of Anheuser-Busch.

Eagleton soon became interested in politics. He was elected circuit attorney of the City of St. Louis in 1956; attorney general of Missouri in 1960 (the youngest man to ever hold the position); lieutenant governor of Missouri in 1964; and U.S. Senator from Missouri in 1968. He was twice reelected to the U.S. Senate, in 1974 and 1980. Eagleton was chosen for the Democratic vice presidential candidate in 1972. He was asked to resign from the ticket, a month later, and was replaced by Sargent Shriver.

During his three terms in the Senate, Eagleton served on the following committees: Appropriations Committee, Select Committee on Intelligence, Truman Scholarship Foundation, Governmental Affairs Committee, Foreign Relations Committee, Select Committee on Ethics, Labor and Human Resources Committee, Public Works Committee, Labor and Public Welfare Committee, District of Columbia Committee, Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, National Capital Planning Commission, Temporary Commission on Financial Oversight of the District of Columbia, Special Committee on Aging, and National Visitor Facilities Advisory Commission. (For a complete list of Committee and Subcommittee assignments including dates, please see Appendix A.)

Eagleton received numerous awards and honors, including the Independent School Districts' Outstanding Service to Public Education Award in 1978 and the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities Distinguished Service Award in 1980. He received the Harry S Truman Good Neighbor Award twice, in 1974 and 1985. He also received an honorary Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from Suffolk University in Massachusetts for his fight against legalized wiretapping.

Thomas Eagleton retired from the U.S. Senate in January of 1987. He returned to Missouri and accepted a partnership with the St. Louis law firm of Thompson & Mitchell. (f. 1107-1835, r. 140-487, Card Files 1-2)

Alphabetical and chronological:

Two automated systems were used by Eagleton's staff to answer his huge volume of constituent mail. The first system was referred to as a "robo" system. The robos are form letters that were written by Eagleton and/or his staff on a particular subject and then given a number. Subsequent constituent letters on the same subject were answered by the appropriate robo letter. The robo letters in folders 1107-1835 cover the years 1969-1986 and are arranged alphabetically by subject. The robo letters on microfilm (r. 140-143) cover the years 1969-1980 and are arranged chronologically, then alphabetically by subject within.

r. 142 Robos, 1979
r. 143 Robos, 1980

In 1976 Eagleton's staff began to use the Correspondence Management System (CMS), an automated computer system of the U.S. Senate, in addition to the robo system. This automated system provided a method for creating similar, but individual, letters by using approved paragraphs or letters of text merged with constituent names and addresses. It was widely used throughout the U.S. Senate to respond to high volume mail. The types of information available from the system include the name and address of the constituent, the aide responsible for answering the letter, a document number for each letter, a paragraph item number, the date of the correspondence, and brief comments about the letter. For more information on CMS, please see f.1837-1844 and f.1975-1982.

The CMS files are general correspondence files dating from 1976 through 1986. These files are on microfilm and the originals have been discarded. Rolls 144-191 are compiled name indexes to the CMS files for the years 1980 through 1985. Rolls 192-487 are composed of the CMS files, which are arranged in chronological order, and identified by a "document number."

For example, document no. 8331122028 was created using the following criteria:

8	331	12	2028
1978	331st	Operator	Sequence
	day	Number	Number

The card files contain the master topics and subtopics used in the CMS numbering system.

Topics included are agriculture, education, foreign trade, transportation, and welfare. The cards are arranged in alphabetical order by subject and act as an index to the master topics. Patrons can use these cards to find a desired topic in the folder list.

Card File 2	1981-1986

Office Manager's Files, 1968-1986 Subseries

f. 1836-1919b, r. 488-515

The files are arranged alphabetically by topic.

Also included is information on the Mail File System, a subsystem of the U.S. Senate's Correspondence Management System (CMS). ### Cosponsorship, 1969-1986 Subseries

f. 5279-5339

Chronological by Congress:

The Cosponsorship subseries is comprised of subject files, All Option Reports (Cosponsorship and Sponsorship), and Legislative Activities reports relating to the legislation that Eagleton sponsored or cosponsored. The subject files appearing at the beginning of the series span from the 91st Congress (1969-1970) to the 92d Congress (1971-1972). These legislative topics are arranged into two alphabetical subject sections within each Congress: Senate resolutions/ bills and amendments to House of Representatives bills. These files contain colleague correspondence, statements, and background information on Senate Resolutions, Senate bills, and amendments to House legislation that Eagleton cosponsored. Some of the files contained only a printed copy of the bill that Eagleton co-sponsored. However, most of the files hold cosponsorship forms on which office staff members recorded notes and summaries regarding the bills, letters from the sponsoring Senators, fact sheets, and speeches introducing the bills.

There are scattered, incomplete co-sponsorship materials in the microfilm of the Voting Record subseries for the 93d and 94th Congress. These items are in rough chronological order and include cosponsorship forms, letters, bill analyses, and fact sheets.

NOTE: The printed copy of most of the bills has been removed from the Cosponsorship files unless the copy had been annotated. Printed amendments were left in the files. When a file contained only the printed bill, a "Removed" note replaced it. For printed copies of bills please contact the Government Documents section of Ellis Library.

Voting Record, 1969-1986 Subseries

f. 5340-5403; rolls 517-528; card files 3-10

Chronological by Congress and alphabetical:

The Voting Record subseries represents a subject documentation of Senator Eagleton's legislative activities. The Voting Record subseries appears in two formats: microfilm and paper.

The 12 rolls of microfilm contain speeches, press releases, news releases ("Frankly Speaking"), newsclippings on legislative issues, excerpts from the Congressional Record, ROBO reply letters, issues of the Senate Voting Record compiled by the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, radio spots, Dear Colleague letters, joint letters, and cosponsorship forms on selected bills and amendments that Eagleton cosponsored. These materials are arranged by Congress but do not appear in strict chronological order. In most instances, like materials have been placed together (e.g. press releases) and appear in one or more sections throughout one roll of microfilm. Each document has been assigned an identification number and the items appear in numerical order on the microfilm.

There is a computer printout (f. 5340) which acts as an index for rolls #11 and #12. However, there is no index for rolls #1-#10 (1969-1974). The entries are arranged alphabetically by assigned topics such as Aging, Economy, or Veterans. Four columns of information appear on the index: document number (which corresponds to the microfilm), subject of the document, type of document, and assigned topic/date of the document

f. 5341-5387, Card Files 3-10

The following section of the Voting Record subseries concerns specific legislation with which Eagleton was involved. The TFE Bills folders are arranged chronologically by Congress and contain typed notebooks maintained by staff members of the bills that Eagleton sponsored and cosponsored. The notebooks list the bills in two ways: by subject and by Senate and House number. The subject list includes a brief description of each bill and the numerical list includes a succinct, dated legislative history. The Statements folders contain excerpts from the Congressional Record, joint letters, VIP letters, Dear Colleague letters, and target mailings related to the information in the TFE Bills folders.

Voting Record Indices

f. 5388-5403

The final section of the Voting Record subseries includes indices and compilations providing subject access to Eagleton's voting record in the Senate. Staff members maintained and arranged alphabetically by topic the Master Issue File (1974) and the Issue Book (1974-1980). They are synopses of the Senator's position on legislative issues during his first and second terms, 1969-1980. The Congressional Record Index provides access to Eagleton's statements in the Congressional Record (1969-1986).

For information on Eagleton's vote on particular bills there are two formats to consult. The Senate Democratic Policy Committee compiled the Multiyear Issue Index. It provides subject access to Eagleton's voting record for 1979-1984 and for 1979-1985. There are two versions of the 1979-1985 Multiyear Issue Index. The first is the same format as that for the 1979-1984 Multiyear Issue Index and is called a descriptive index which provides a brief summary of the bills being voted upon. The second version of the 1979-1985 Multiyear Issue Index is called a topical index and provides only the vote number, offering no description of the measures.

Eagleton's staff maintained its own Voting Record indices for 1974-1979 and for 1977-1984. The 1974-1979 Voting Record index is arranged alphabetically by topic and then by year within each topic. There is a brief description accompanying each vote concerning the bills/amendments in question and the actions taken. The 1977-1984 Voting Record index is arranged chronologically by vote number and gives Eagleton's votes along with those of Senator John C. Danforth. There is significantly less description included in the 1977-1984 record than in the 1974-1979 record.
