Biographical Note:

William Stuart Symington was born in Amherst, Massachusetts, on June 26, 1901, to William Stuart Symington, a Baltimore, Maryland lawyer and former professor of Romance Languages at Amherst College, and his wife, Emily Haxall Harrison Symington also of Baltimore. Professor Symington originally obtained his Ph.D. in French folklore from Johns Hopkins in Baltimore before studying law. He began practicing law at the age of 35. Emily Haxall Harrison descended from a wealthy Virginia family.

Soon after his birth, the Symington family moved to Baltimore where Stuart Symington attended public schools, graduating from Baltimore City College in 1917. He enlisted as a private in the United States Army at age 17, entered officer training school, and was discharged with the rank of second lieutenant in 1919. He enrolled at Yale University but left in 1923, short of mathematics credits. Yale did award him his degree retroactively in 1945, however. Symington worked summers as a reporter for a Baltimore newspaper. He moved to Rochester, New York where he worked as an iron molder and lathe operator from 1923 to 1926, studying mechanical and electrical engineering at night and by correspondence. He served as an executive with several radio and steel companies from 1926 to 1937 before moving to St. Louis, Missouri to become president of Emerson Electric Manufacturing Company, a post he held until 1945.

Symington married Evelyn Wadsworth on March 1, 1924. Wadsworth was the daughter of New York Republican Senator James Wolcott Wadsworth, Jr., and granddaughter of John Hay. The couple had two sons, William Stuart Symington, Jr., a lawyer in St. Louis, and James Wadsworth Symington, former Congressman from Missouri and a lawyer in Washington, D.C.

Symington entered public service with an appointment as chairman of the Surplus Property Board in Washington, D.C. and was Surplus Property Administrator from 1945 to 1946. Other federal appointments quickly followed: Assistant Secretary of War for Air (1946-1947), first Secretary of the Air Force (1947-1950), Chairman of the National Security Resources Board (1950-1951), and Reconstruction Finance Corporation Administrator (1951-1952). He resigned from the latter position to run as a Democrat for the U.S. Senate in 1952.

After an unsuccessful run for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, he was reelected to the U.S. Senate in 1958, 1964, and 1970 where he served until his retirement on December 27, 1976. The death of Evelyn Wadsworth Symington on December 24, 1972, and his own health caused the Senator to decide not to run for reelection in 1976. Symington married Ann Hemingway Watson on June 16, 1978, and lived in New Canaan, Connecticut until his death of heart disease on December 14, 1988. He is interred in a crypt in Washington National Cathedral, Washington, D.C.

Scope and Content Note:

The Stuart Symington Papers consist of constituent correspondence, limited family and personal correspondence, appointment books and calendars, audio and video recordings, campaign materials, select invitations and itineraries, limited pre-senatorial materials, photographs, press files, scrapbooks, selected Congressional testimonies, speeches, staff memoranda, voting records, and miscellaneous ephemera.

The Committees series consists of official correspondence pertaining to those Senate committees for which the Senator worked and includes requests for information, communications with government agencies, office memoranda, statements on various issues, and discussions of issue specific legislation. The series is arranged by committee.

The Flood Control series contains correspondence, clippings, industry reports, legislative and appropriations materials, and government agency reports, including the Army Corps of Engineers reports pertaining to the building of dams, impoundments, reservoirs, and watersheds on Missouri's Rivers in an attempt to alleviate severe annual flooding.

The Energy series consists of statistics, annual reports of companies, case studies, congressional hearings, FEA releases and letters from constituents giving their reactions to taxes, energy regulations, speed limits, rationing, and atomic and solar energy. This series is arranged by subject matter.

The Staff Files series contains correspondence, memoranda, and other supporting materials from the Senator's staff and assistants and includes James Gehrig, Edward Christy Welsh, Harriett Robnett, Neil Livingstone, and Kathie Nelson Smith. The series is arranged by surname and then by topic.

The Alphabetical Correspondence series comprises correspondence from family members, constituents, political leaders, including all the presidents from Truman to Carter, major senatorial and congressional figures, political appointees, Supreme Court justices, civil rights and religious leaders, Pentagon and military officials, August Busch and other business executives, and such entertainment luminaries as Bob Hope, Arthur Godfrey, Ann Landers, and Danny Kaye. The series is arranged alphabetically by surname.

The Legislative Correspondence series includes letters from Missouri constituents and others pertaining to a variety of legislative topics and is dated from 1973 to 1976. Prior to 1973, legislative correspondence, regardless of subject was filed with the alphabetical correspondence series. Please check the Alphabetical Correspondence series for earlier legislative correspondence. Select correspondence between Senator Symington and his Congressional colleagues is contained in the series Legislative Correspondence with Senators.

The Photographs series includes photographs of the Senator, his colleagues, and other political luminaries, dating from 1946 to 1976. Prior to 1980, photographs were removed from their original location in the papers and placed in a separate series. After 1980, photographs were kept in their original location and may be found throughout the collection. This series follows original arrangement by subject matter and then chronologically within each folder. Please see the Symington Family series for personal and family-oriented images.

The Pre-Senatorial series includes limited correspondence and scrapbooks from Symington's years in government service prior to his election as U.S. Senator from Missouri. From 1946 through 1950, Symington served as Assistant Secretary of War for Air and then as the first Secretary of the Air Force. He was appointed Chairman of the National Security Resources Board by President Harry Truman in 1950 and as administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in 1951. He left the RFC to run for the United States Senate in 1952. The series focuses on Symington's tenure with the Air Force, the National Security Resources Board, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The Personal Correspondence series contains personal correspondence kept by the Senator apart from his office files. It includes letters written to close friends (David R. Calhoun, Eugene Carusi, Clark Clifford, Bob Hope, Tom Lamphier, Elwood R. Quesada, Sidney Salomon, Jr.) and as such, offers insight into deeply held convictions and the Senator's private life outside of Washington, D.C.

The Family series contains correspondence, photographs, negatives, postcards, newspaper clippings and magazine articles, membership cards, and Stuart Symington's memoir. A collection of poems and other writings of Evelyn Wadsworth Symington, histories of the Symington, Wadsworth and related families, deeds, wills, and other assorted estate papers, family and professional mailing lists, and limited genealogical materials are also included in this series.

The Scrapbook series contains scrapbooks produced for the Senator by outside sources including Connally Air Force Base, Texas (1950), Missouri railroad employees (1958), the Israeli Air Force from the Far East and Middle Eastern Congressional trip (1967), and from the Randolph County Symington re-election campaign (1970).

The Editorial Cartoons series includes original artwork and copies of editorial cartoons drawn by prominent cartoonists of the 1940s through 1960s such as Bill Mauldin, Daniel Fitzpatrick, Don Hesse, Herb Block, and others. The series is arranged alphabetically by the artist's surname. All material is oversized.

The Ephemera series primarily contains plaques but also includes other miscellaneous three-dimensional objects that Symington received throughout his career in public service.

The Negatives and Slides series contains negatives and slides of photographs taken either by senatorial staff or professional photographers. The series also contains a printer or engraving plate of an image of the Senator.

The Volumes series includes reports, hearings, guides, and a selection of books retained by Symington's staff pertaining to American involvement in Vietnam, Apollo 13, the case for President Richard Nixon's impeachment, Russian involvement in Czechoslovakia, Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, and a report prepared for the House Un-American Activities Committee on the Sorgé espionage case.

The Political Files series contains materials pertaining to Symington's political campaigns and provides an overview of how political campaigns are organized and conducted. Symington conducted an unsuccessful Democratic bid for the presidential nomination in 1960, and these materials comprise the bulk of the series. Coverage of non-election years is incomplete.

The Press Files series contains Symington's public speeches made while he was Secretary of the Air Force from 1946 through 1950, and post cabinet level speeches through 1952. The series also includes 1952 campaign speeches. The speeches were organized and indexed by his staff. Of particular interest are those speeches that contain original editing marks by Symington. The original order has been retained. Indices, dating from 1946 to 1976, provide release dates for all of the Senator's speeches, statements and press releases, including a list of floor speeches and Congressional testimony. These are filed with the corresponding written material in chronological order. Also retained are selected transcripts from television shows and radio interviews in which Symington participated.

The Voting Records series is arranged chronologically and contains Symington's congressional voting records from 1953 through 1976.

The Appointment Books and Calendars series contains the appointment books, desk calendars, and guest books kept by Symington's administrative staff from 1952 through 1976. The appointment books carry limited information as the bulk of the office appointments were scheduled on the desk calendars (1953-1972). Many appointment book pages are empty. Guest books date from 1952 to 1970 and from 1973 to 1976 and contain the names and addresses of visitors to Symington's office. Please see the Subject Correspondence series for selected calendar pages. This series is arranged chronologically.

The Invitations and Itineraries series includes correspondence, memos, publicity, and trip itineraries for invitations to events Symington accepted, and, if applicable, the speech given. The amount of material contained within each folder generally depends upon the length of stay in each specific locale with brief campaign stops or luncheon meetings generating less organizational effort than formal speeches at statewide meetings. A limited number of invitations were retained during processing.

The Subject Correspondence series contains correspondence from a variety of sources including constituents, school children, newspaper editors, U.S. Senators and Representatives, members of the education and defense establishments, scientists, and pacifists. The series includes memos and research prepared for the Senator by members of his staff and the Congressional Research Service. It also includes handwritten notes, selected inserts into the Congressional Record, cabinet level reports, testimony before the U.S. Senate, and supporting material sent to the Senator from experts in the field. Series arrangement follows the original scheme: arranged alphabetically by subject and chronologically within each folder.

The Audio and Video Recordings series contains audio cassette and vinyl recordings, audio tapes, video tapes, and compact discs. The series includes interviews, press conferences, speeches, senatorial and presidential campaign songs and radio spots, statements, public service announcements, radio promotions, and a rare recording of Bob Hope's 1949 Christmas Show at U.S. Air Force bases in Alaska.

Agriculture and Forestry Committee. Symington's correspondence with his staff, other congressmen, constituents, agricultural officials and organizations. The material is arranged into four sections: General Correspondence, Alphabetical Files, Legislation, and E.A. Jaenke Files.

These files contain requests for information, communications with government agencies, office memoranda, statements on various issues, and discussions of agricultural legislation.

With the end of the Korean War, many new agricultural programs were needed and correspondence for these years reflects the changes in legislation, transition to flexible price supports under the Agricultural Act of 1954, disposal of surplus foods to foreign countries under the Agricultural Trade and Assistance Act of 1954, establishment of an acreage reserve and allotment crops under the Soil Bank Act of 1976, and recognition of farm problems through an increase in programs to aid rural development.

Because of increased concern over farm problems by agricultural organizations and leaders from 1957 to 1958, the correspondence consists of letters, discussions, agendas and speeches of meetings with agricultural groups, and communications with government agencies. The issues covered include acreage allotments and price supports for feed grains under the Agricultural Act of 1958, policies of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, increased participation in acreage reserve and conservation reserve programs of the Soil Bank Act, effective use of fertilizers, herbicides, and pesticides for improved crop production and decline of the farm population and family farms.

The correspondence from 1959 to 1968 reflects the emphasis placed on programs to relieve farm economic problems. These programs stressed the use of surplus commodities to feed the needy at home and abroad, rural development, telephone expansion, growth of farm organizations, the Food Stamp Act, provisions of various feed grain bills, and the enactment of a series of strong farm bills.

Correspondence from 1969 to 1974 shows the continued growth of programs to aid the farmer with the expansion of the Food Stamp Act and School Lunch Program. Legislation concerns addressed in the correspondence include the Rural Development Act, Rural Environmental Assistance Program, and Farm Credit Act; commodity foods and their use; humane treatment of animals with the Horse Protection Act; and passage of the Agricultural Act of 1970 and Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973.

During the years 1975 and 1976, correspondence consisted primarily of letters from constituents dealing with a variety of agricultural issues: crop production, pesticides, dairy industry, disaster aid, commodity foods, conservation, and rural development.

The Legislation section contains correspondence on proposed and enacted laws, including historical background, discussions with fellow Congressmen, and opinions of constituents covering acreage and conservation reserves, surplus food commodities, the Agricultural Act of 1958, Humane Slaughter Act Public Law 85-909, and appropriations for research in forestry and animal husbandry.

Edwin A. Jaenke was agricultural adviser to Senator Symington from 1957 to 1961. This section of the papers contains correspondence, dictation, and memos, including requests for information and discussions of agricultural legislation with constituents, staff members, agricultural officials, and organizations. Much of the correspondence dealt with policies of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Energy Series

Conservation of energy became of growing importance with the oil embargo by the Arab nations in early 1970s. The correspondence reflects the need of the United States to find a solution to the energy problem and includes statistics, annual reports of companies, case studies, Congressional hearing testimony, FEA releases, and letters from constituents giving their reactions to taxes, energy regulations, speed limits, rationing, and atomic and solar energy.

Staff Files Series

Staff files of James Gehrig, Edward C. Welsh, Harriett Robnett, Kathie Nelson Smith, and Neil Livingstone. The staff files of Gehrig and Welsh are divided into four sections. Folders 3255-3272 contain quotes from speeches, statements, press conferences, and miscellaneous quotes on defense. Folders 3273-3525 contain research, memos, reports, etc., concerning Defense and Miscellaneous. Folders 3526-3607 contain similar types of materials dealing with the space program and satellites. The final section, folders 3608-3661, concerns the National Stockpile and Naval Petroleum Reserves Subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee. Please note that many topics overlap among these three sections.

Alphabetical Correspondence Series

The Senator's staff spent much of their time answering constituent correspondence and this is reflected in the breadth of material contained within the Alphabetical Correspondence series. Whenever possible, Congressional colleagues, cabinet secretaries, military and defense officials, business executives, and the Library of Congress were consulted, and the reports mailed to constituents. Correspondents also include all the presidents from Truman to Carter, major senatorial and congressional figures, political appointees, Supreme Court justices, civil rights and religious leaders, Pentagon and military officials, August Busch and other business executives, and such entertainment luminaries as Bob Hope, Arthur Godfrey, Ann Landers, and Danny Kaye.

This series extensively covers the daily concerns of Missouri citizens and provides a thorough overview of the state of agriculture in Missouri from the 1950s through the middle 1970s, the establishment of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the manned space program, the involvement of the United States into Vietnam and the schism in American society brought about by the Vietnam War, the actions and reactions which led to the Watergate Affair of 1972 and the resignation of Richard Nixon, and a survey of the social changes undergone by the United States including the Civil Rights and Women's Liberation movements of the 1950s through the 1970s. Three basic themes occur throughout: domestic matters, elections and politics, and military and foreign affairs.

The bulk of the correspondence is focused on domestic matters with agriculture prominently featured. Drought and/or flood relief, farm support programs, falling prices and rising expenses, flood control, the soil bank, and resource conservation are among the subjects discussed. Business and commerce executives and employees worried about the illegal dumping of foreign goods on American markets, industrial development, insurance regulation and deregulation, investigation of unfair trade practices, military and government contracts, modernization of the air traffic control system, restraint of free trade, strikes and lockouts, unfair labor practices, unionization, and working conditions. Also very much on the mind of the constituents were Congressional legislative proposals, road improvements, tax relief, the education system, employment and welfare assistance for former employees and private citizens, and discrimination in housing and housing for the poor. Miscellaneous requests from private citizens for appearances at functions, appointments to service academies, entrance to specific colleges, flags that flew over the Capitol building, judicial appointments, photographs, and private appointments/meetings with the Senator are also included.

Elections and political matters generated correspondence from local and national Democratic Party committees and includes candidates' requests for campaign funding and endorsements, local election irregularities, presidential and congressional campaigns, and support for the Symington presidential election bid in 1960. The series also contains correspondence between Symington and his Congressional colleagues. In 1973, Symington staff separated all correspondence pertaining to national legislation, regardless of subject matter, into subject files. The Legislative Correspondence series is arranged by subject matter and contains a representative sampling of related correspondence and follows this series.

Correspondents were vitally aware of foreign and military affairs. They expressed their views in regard to the fight against communism, foreign aid (reduction of and for specific countries), American involvement in foreign affairs, nuclear disarmament, world peace, and assistance to American citizens traveling abroad. Military personnel and their families inquired as to benefits, pensions, and health care and complained about the bureaucracy, especially corruption and waste of resources. Parents of young Missouri men of draft age wrote involved, emotional appeals requesting assistance in keeping their relatives out of Vietnam. Military personnel, officers and enlisted men, discussed military preparedness in depth including air superiority, armament cutbacks, and reduction in forces, promotion procedures, and the unification of all branches of the military.

The series is arranged chronologically and then alphabetically within each folder. Indexing was based upon frequency of appearance, relative importance, uniqueness or exclusivity, and content of the subject matter. Individuals of national or statewide importance are indexed but only in cases where the correspondence is substantive. Correspondence between Symington and other Congressional colleagues is generally indexed by subject matter only, although specific exceptions have been made. As any speech made on the floor of either the Senate or the House of Representatives can be found in the official Congressional Record for that specific date, copies of most speeches sent to Symington have not been retained, although exceptions have been made, due to handwritten notes in the margins made by the Senator or his staff. Correspondence from various senate committees has been indexed if the material, report, or editorial discussed is enclosed with the correspondence. Unless otherwise noted, material which explains, expounds, or otherwise discusses the Senator's position on issues was indexed.

Entries originally filed under department or subject headings, such as Department of the Navy, Patent Office, or surplus are retained in that category. Within each particular category, the entries are organized in alphabetical order by surname. For example, all entries under Navy are in alphabetical order (Adams, Baker, Carlin, Daniels, etc). Cases exist where all correspondence from a specific individual, regardless of date, are filed together. This original scheme has been retained.

Legislative Correspondence Series

The Legislative Correspondence series includes letters from Missouri constituents and others pertaining to a variety of legislative topics and is dated from 1973 to 1976. Prior to 1973, legislative correspondence, regardless of subject, was filed with the alphabetical correspondence series. Please check the Alphabetical Correspondence series for earlier legislative correspondence. Correspondence between Senator Symington and his Congressional colleagues is contained in the series, Legislative Correspondence with Senators.

Copies of legislation, Presidential proclamations, newspaper clippings, and Congressional Record entries were not kept, as this material is available from other published sources. Due to the overwhelming number of constituent letters pertaining to specific subjects, a representative sample of correspondence has been retained. Qualifiers for inclusion: constituent diversity, content of reply, supporting materials (especially explanatory findings at the cabinet level), and subject matter. "Acknowledgement Only" replies have not been retained.

The series retains the original subject headings (listed below with brief content descriptions). Within each folder, the correspondence is arranged in alphabetical order by surname.

- f. 6126-6131 Aged and aging. Age discrimination, cost of living effects on a fixed income, economic conditions in the U.S. affecting the elderly, foster grandparent program, nursing homes, care and regulations, senior citizen law and legislation, taxation, transportation, U.S. Social Security Administration, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare

Legislative Correspondence with Senators Series

During his tenure in Congress, Symington sponsored or co-sponsored legislation on subjects, including but not limited to agricultural programs, anti-dumping, automobile safety systems, civil rights, Congressional rules and practice, drug abuse, federal budget and debt reduction, federal government reorganization, federal voting age (25th Amendment), foreign aid and assistance, Foreign Service Academy, income tax revision, maintenance of transportation infrastructure, mineral stockpiles, Missouri concerns (flood relief, lead and zinc mines, Truman Dam and Reservoir, Wilson Creek National Battlefield), pollution and the energy crisis, private relief bills for specific constituents, Social Security and aid for the blind, Watergate issues, and weapons systems

Notable declinations include the abolishment of the death penalty, the abolishment of the Electoral College and the direct election of the President and Vice-President, additions to the national park system, agricultural imports and exports, automobile safety, federal aid to educational programs, federal flood insurance, income tax, and reorganization of various cabinet posts and departments of the federal government.

The bulk of the correspondence pertains to that legislation which Symington sponsored or co-sponsored. Legislation Symington sponsored falls at the end of the series in alphabetical order by subject. The amount of material related to each piece of legislation varies by subject and includes congressional correspondence, staff memos and researched reports, expert opinions, summaries of relevant legal cases, and in-depth examinations of the constitutionality of specific pieces of legislation. In co-sponsorship cases where more than one senator introduced legislation on the same subject, the correspondence is filed under Symington in alphabetical order by subject. In instances where specific pieces of legislation were represented only by a copy of the proposed bill, the material was not retained. Please refer to the Alphabetical Correspondence series and Legislative Correspondence series for additional legislative material.

Copies of legislation, press files, newspaper clippings and magazine articles, Congressional hearings reports, and Congressional Record entries were not kept, as this material is available from other published sources. A representative sample of correspondence has been retained. Criteria for inclusion include the subject matter and relative historical importance of the proposed legislation, either national or statewide in scope, and whether the proposed legislation was actually passed. Diversity of subject matter, specifically for private relief bills, was also considered. Declinations are retained based upon subject matter and are filed with each respective senators' correspondence. There is limited correspondence by former or sitting Presidents pertaining to specific pieces of legislation.

Symington sponsored or co-sponsored a small number of private relief bills (legislation focusing on a single individual). Subjects include citizenship, visas and the immigration process, and a financial award in a military medical malpractice case. Folders 6543-6546 contain lists of sponsored legislation organized by Congressional session number.

The series is arranged in alphabetical order by surname. Indexing is by subject only. Individual senators' names are listed below.

Photographs Series

This series contains primarily black and white images and very few color photographs. Prior to 1980, photographs were removed from their original location within the collection and placed in a separate series. This includes select images removed from C3637, Stuart Symington Scrapbooks, which were microfilmed. Additional photographs are scattered throughout the collection. The series follows the original arrangement by subject matter and then chronologically within each folder. Please see the Symington Family series for personal and family images.

NOTE: Many of the images are clearly marked as to copyright ownership (for example, property of the U.S. Air Force, specific photographer, specific news organization).

Permission to publish these photographs must be obtained from the copyright holder.
SHSMO makes no claims as to copyright ownership.

Pre-Senatorial Series

The Pre-Senatorial series includes correspondence and scrapbooks from Symington's years in government service prior to his election as Senator. From 1946 through 1950, Symington served as Assistant Secretary of War for Air and then as the first Secretary of the Air Force. He was appointed Chairman of the National Security Resources Board by President Harry Truman in 1950 and as administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in 1951. He left the RFC to run for the United States Senate in 1952.

The series focuses on Symington's tenure with the Air Force, the National Security Resources Board, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC). Of interest is Symington's official Air Force flight log complete with a photograph of the crew and converted B-50 bomber assigned to the Senator, flight routes, and records, and scrapbooks compiled during a 1946 visit to San Marcos, Texas and a 1948 visit to Ankara, Turkey.

Correspondence is concentrated within the National Security Resources Board and the RFC. The National Security Act of 1947 established the Central Intelligence Agency and National Security Council, originally consisting of only seven permanent members: the President, the Secretaries of State, Defense, Army, Navy, and Air Force, and the Chairman of the National Security Resources Board (NSRB), the latter charged with coordinating effective use of the nation's industrial and natural resources during wartime. Duties also included rebuilding and maintaining minerals and raw material stockpiles depleted during World War II. Attached to the Executive Office of the President, the NSRB was abolished during government reorganization in June 1953.

Correspondence and staff memoranda indicate evidence of questionable business ethics by corporations requesting financial assistance.

Personal Correspondence Series

This series contains personal correspondence kept by the Senator apart from his office files. Included are letters written to close friends (David R. Calhoun, Eugene Carusi, Clark Clifford, Bob Hope, Tom Lanphier, Elwood R. Quesada, Sidney Salomon, Jr.) and as such, offer insight into deeply held convictions and the Senator's private life outside of Washington, D.C.

Of special interest are two of the first contributions received for Symington's 1952 Senate campaign, campaign expense records and other campaign material, correspondence with Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford, Dwight D. Eisenhower, journalist and author Martha Gellhorn, Lyndon Baines Johnson, Edward M. Kennedy, Robert F. Kennedy, John F. Kennedy, and handwritten letters from Chief Justice William O. Douglas. Also included is correspondence pertaining to a smear campaign by James P. Kem, Symington's opponent in the 1952 Senatorial campaign (Car Incident) and letters from advice columnist Ann Landers (Eppie Lederer), reporter Flora Lewis, and Thomas J. Watson, Jr. (son of the founder of I.B.M and brother in-law of Symington's second wife, Nancy). This series also contains material from the Senate Investigating Subcommittee involving Senator Joseph R. McCarthy and J.B. Matthews, statements not included in the Press Files and Speeches series, correspondence related to the Tenenbaum case of 1958, and a selection of oral history transcripts with Symington from 1981 to 1985.

Also of interest is the correspondence with Major Francis J. Baker on the controversial Northrop Aviation Flying Wing bomber, cancelled by the Air Force for safety reasons. The aircraft program was at the heart of libel action Symington considered against KCET. The television station produced and aired a documentary in which Jack Northrop, the founder of Northrop Aviation, alleged that Symington was responsible for the cancellation.

Materials deemed of special interest to the Senator are contained within the Symington Miscellaneous files. Included are biographical materials, magazine articles and newspaper clippings, early speeches, staff memoranda and research on numerous topics, Congressional voting analyses, select Congressional speeches and Congressional Record inserts, and his retirement announcement and letters of recognition. This file is organized in chronological order.

Symington wrote or received "for your eyes only" or "top secret" memoranda throughout his career. This material relates to fight among the branches of the Armed Forces as they each jockeyed for position, appropriations, and weapons in the years immediately following World War II, budget and appropriations, the defense establishment, the parking situation in Washington, D.C., reorganization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the controversy surrounding the 1952 Senate investigating subcommittee, and foreign relations with the Soviet Union and China and the dangers of communism.

Correspondence between Symington and Claudia Taylor Johnson (Lady Bird) are filed with that from Lyndon Baines Johnson.

Subjects within the series overlap with other correspondence series. Please see the Alphabetical, Legislative, and Subject Correspondence series for additional materials.

Personal correspondence dates throughout Symington's career and retirement. Dates are provided only when there is more than one folder for a topic and/or individual. The material has been kept in its original arrangement: alphabetical order by surname and/or subject matter.

Copies of Symington material held by the Harry S Truman Presidential Library have not been retained. Also, "thank you" letters written to campaign contributors have not been retained.

Family Series

This series contains correspondence, photographs, negatives, post cards, newspaper clippings and magazine articles, membership cards, Stuart Symington's memoir, a collection of poems and other writings of Evelyn Wadsworth Symington, histories of the Symington, Wadsworth and related families, deeds, wills, and other assorted estate papers, as well as family and professional mailing lists, and limited genealogical materials.

Of special interest is the Senator's memoir in which he recalls significant highlights of his personal life and career. The memoir includes a recounting of Symington's first campaign for Senator in 1952, a remarkable visit with Winston Churchill in 1954, the organization of the United States Air Force, and insight into the 1948 Democratic National Convention and the re-election of Harry S Truman.

Symington family correspondence focuses primarily upon family matters and covers the 1940s through the 1980s. Family photographs are divided by individual, in alphabetical order. Vacation pictures and post cards are kept together and may include Symington family members. The materials relate to several trips to the Caribbean, the Symington's favorite vacation locale, a duck hunting trip to Holly Springs, Mississippi, golfing with Katherine Hepburn, and visits to

New York, Virginia, and Cuivre Lake State Park, Missouri. Also included are select images obtained from scanned negatives.

Scrapbook Series

This series contains scrapbooks produced for the Senator by outside sources including Connally Air Force Base, Texas, Missouri railroad employees, the Israeli Air Force, Far East and Middle Eastern Congressional trip, and from the Randolph County Symington re-election campaign.

As Secretary of the Air Force, Symington toured Connally Air Force Base near Waco, Texas at the behest of Senator Lyndon Baines Johnson. During the two-day trip, Symington toured the base, attended the 50th Anniversary Banquet of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, unveiled a memorial plaque commemorating the Air Force service of Colonel James T. Connally for whom the base was named, and received an honorary degree from Baylor University. For preservation concerns, the 1950 Texas scrapbook was taken apart, photocopied in situ to maintain original appearance, and the photographs removed and placed in protective sleeves.

The 1958 Symington re-election scrapbook contains original correspondence from Missouri railroad employees. The scrapbook was disassembled and the original correspondence retained.

Symington visited Israel and the Middle East shortly after the end of the June 1967 Israel-Arab War (Six Days War). Accompanied by Israeli Cabinet Minister Shlomo Argov, Jerusalem Mayor Teddy Kollek, and Israeli Air Force officers David Elizar and Avraham Adan, the Senator toured Jerusalem, the Sinai Desert, Suez Canal, and the Golan Heights region on the Israel-Syria border. The original scrapbook was disassembled and the folder contains the photographs from that album. Symington was presented with an additional scrapbook detailing the Israeli Air Force's performance during the Six Days War. This volume also includes aerial images of military tanks clustered at the base of the Great Pyramids at Giza.

Moberly and Randolph County Democrats presented Symington with a scrapbook detailing the 1970 general election. The volume includes bumper stickers, photographs, newspaper clippings, and correspondence.

Editorial Cartoon Series

If Symington was struck by an editorial cartoon, he would request a copy of the original from the cartoonist. This series contains original artwork and copies signed by each artist and is arranged in alphabetical order by surname. All cartoons are oversize.

Negatives and Slides Series

This series contains negatives and slides of photographs taken either by senatorial staff or professional photographers. Arranged in chronological order and dating from 1959 to 1976, the series also contains a printer's block image of Symington inscribed on a metal plate and mounted on a wooden block. The block was used whenever mass mailings of campaign prints, posters, and flyers were required.

Volumes Series

This series contains books, reports, hearings, guides, and other materials retained by Symington's staff and pertaining to select subjects of interest; and includes materials on American involvement in Vietnam, Apollo 13, the case for Richard Nixon's impeachment, Russian involvement in Czechoslovakia, Joseph R. McCarthy, and a report prepared for the House Un-American Activities Committee on the Sorgé espionage case.

Of special interest is the Congressional hearing before the Committee of Foreign Relations on legislation to establish a Foreign Service Academy. Symington believed that American foreign affairs would be better served if American diplomats were trained at an academy designed specifically for that purpose. He worked strenuously and ultimately unsuccessfully, to establish the Academy.

Political Files Series

The Political Files series contains materials pertaining to Symington's political campaigns and provides an overview of how political campaigns are organized and conducted. Due to the size and scope of this series, and the series that follow, the materials have been described at the box level instead of the folder level as was done with the previous series in the collection.

Symington conducted an unsuccessful bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1960 and these materials comprise the bulk of the series. Coverage of non-election years is and incomplete.

The series includes, but is not limited to: campaign workers handbooks; citizen support groups; correspondence, both constituent and at the county, state and national party level; Democratic Party (both state and national) mailing lists, newsletters, platforms and publications; election returns; financial records; endorsements; guest books; lists of contributors, campaign organizations, contacts and volunteers; materials pertaining to the Democratic National Conventions of 1952-1976 (broadcast requests, delegates, invitations, messages, Missouri caucus, nominating speeches, Symington headquarters, thank you letters); Republican opponents; Symington publicity materials, speeches, congratulatory letters, and voting records. Of particular interest are the 1968 Johnson-Humphrey presidential campaign materials printed before Lyndon Baines Johnson dropped out of the presidential race. Campaign photographs are filed with the Photographs Series.

The series is arranged chronologically, then in alphabetical order by subject matter. In addition to the named folders, correspondence is scattered throughout. Within each respective year, general correspondence precedes all material. Indexing is to subject and box level only.

Press Files Series

The Senator's staff organized and indexed by topic all public speeches made by then Secretary of the Air Force Symington covering the years 1946 through 1950 and post cabinet level speeches through 1952. Of particular interest are those speeches that contain original editing marks made by Symington. The original organization has been retained. The series also includes 1952 campaign speeches. Unless marked by handwritten changes by the Senator, copies of remarks made on the floor of the Senate and at Congressional hearings were not retained, as this material is available from other sources. Press releases were not retained as that material is available from newspapers.

Indices, dating from 1946 to 1976, provide release dates for all of the Senator's speeches, statements, and press releases, including a list of floor speeches and Congressional testimony. These are filed with the corresponding written material in chronological order. Also retained are selected transcripts from television shows and radio interviews in which Symington participated.

Content of individual speeches reflect the interests of the Senator as well as the interests of the audiences to whom the speeches were given. Predominant topics include agriculture and flood relief, budget concerns and American economic conditions, the elderly, freedom of information and executive secrecy, foreign relations of the United States with both China and the Soviet Union, medical research and health insurance, military preparedness, national defense, separation of powers, the status of the Air Force, veterans' affairs, Vietnam, and Watergate.

The bulk of the material is concentrated in 1960 as Symington geared up for his candidacy for the presidency. In 1961 he returned to the Senate and speeches other than those on the Senate floor, are sketchy until 1964. After his 1975 decision not to seek re-election, Symington made few speeches outside of the Senate floor and Congressional committees. The Symington newsletter, Washington Reports, was retained for 1975 and 1976 due to the paucity of material for the last two years of his tenure.

Please see the Invitations and Itineraries series and Subject Correspondence series (Speech Research) for additional speech materials.

Voting Records Series

This series is arranged chronologically and contains Symington's voting records from 1953 through 1976. Included are the Senator's attendance record, a brief description and/or background of each bill introduced into Congress for that year, yeas and nays recorded by party designation, and how the Senator voted. There are instructions on how to use the voting record book, a brief explanation of how legislation is passed by Congress, and a short dictionary of terms used in the book. Select years also contain indices. Please note that voting records follow dates that Congress actually met. If Congress did not meet during a month, there is no corresponding record. From 1967 to 1969 voting records were collected and published for Symington in one volume.

Records in Box 247 contain a complete record of Symington's votes for the 91st through 94th Congresses prepared by the Democratic National Committee. Included is a comparison between the Senator's vote on specific issues, the presidential position, if known, and the Senator's position versus the Senate outcome of specific legislation. A limited amount of information is also provided for the 94th Congress.

Appointment Books and Calendars Series

This series contains the appointment books, desk calendars, and guest books kept by Symington's administrative staff from 1952 through 1976. The appointment books carry limited information as most of the office appointments were scheduled on the desk calendars. Many appointment book pages are empty. Guest books date from 1952 to 1976, with a gap from 1971 to 1972, and contain the names and addresses of visitors to Symington's office.

Invitations and Itineraries Series

This series contains correspondence, memos, publicity, and trip itineraries for events Symington attended and, if applicable, the speech given. The events took place in Missouri unless otherwise noted. The amount of material contained within each folder generally depends upon the length of stay in each specific locale with brief campaign stops or luncheon meetings generating less organizational effort than formal speeches at statewide meetings. Records of extemporaneous remarks are filed under Remarks. Speeches and are generally much longer, involve staff research, one or more drafts, and contain in-depth material on a specific topic. Arrangement is in chronological order by date of invitation.

Please see Press Files series and Subject Correspondence series (Speech Research) for additional speeches. Some Congressional hearings were scheduled outside of Washington, D.C. and took place in the state of Missouri. Correspondence pertinent to the hearings has been retained. Actual testimony is available through other sources. In rare instances, the Senator accepted an invitation to speak and because of Senate or personal business, was forced to cancel the appearance. This material has been retained. Material is fairly extensive for all years through 1964, with the exception of 1959 and 1960, when he was campaigning for the Democratic nomination. Material is sporadic from 1965 through 1976.

Please note that attendance at two functions in one day occurred semi-regularly in Missouri and often involved a breakfast or luncheon at one location followed by a dinner meeting elsewhere.

Selected social invitations and supporting materials issued to the Senator in a professional capacity are filed at the end of the series under Personal Invitations. These include a pass to the 1965 State of the Union Speech, White House invitations, menus, admission cards, place cards, programs, and windshield identification cards. Also included are an invitation to the unveiling of Bess Wallace Truman's portrait; shower and wedding invitations, and thank you cards for Luci Baines Johnson and Lynda Bird Johnson; and invitations issued to the Symingtons for the weddings of daughters of Arthur Godfrey and Bob Hope. They are arranged alphabetically by sender. Inclusion is based upon the issuing party or the historical significance of the event.

Subject Correspondence Series

This series contains correspondence from a variety of sources including Missouri constituents, school children, newspaper editors, U.S. Senators and Representatives, the education and defense establishment, scientists, and pacifists. It includes memos and research prepared for the Senator by members of his staff and the Congressional Research Service. There are also handwritten notes, selected inserts into the Congressional Record, selected Cabinet level reports, selected testimony before the U.S. Senate, and supporting material sent to the Senator from experts in the field. Staff memoranda authored by Stanley Fike, Harriet Robnett, Edward C. Welsh, John Zentay, and Earl Mackey provide a comprehensive examination of the inner workings of not only the Senator's office but Congress as well.

Symington served with John Fitzgerald Kennedy in the Senate and actively campaigned for him during the 1960 Presidential election once the nomination was secured. Of particular interest are selected Kennedy campaign speeches from the 1960 Presidential election, memorabilia from Kennedy's tenure in the White House and Kennedy's funeral service, and material pertaining to the establishment of the Kennedy Presidential Library.

The Vietnam War affected both American domestic and foreign policies. Along with America as a whole, Symington wrestled with the military involvement in Vietnam. After many trips to the war zone, Symington, originally a supporter of the Vietnam War, gradually changed his position. Of particular interest are letters written to the Senator from soldiers serving in Vietnam.

Also of interest is the material on the Watergate break-in, the cover up, misuse of government agencies, and resulting hearings leading to the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon, and the arrest, trials, and convictions of presidential aides.

The series includes correspondence from Harold Agnew, Dean Acheson, James Allen (CEO of Northrop Aviation), Richard H. Amberg (publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat), Bernard M. Baruch, Judge William H. Becker, Ezra Taft Benson, N.R. Danielan, John Foster Dulles, Thomas F. Eagleton, Harry Truman, Dwight Eisenhower, John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson, Richard Nixon, Gerald Ford, William C. Foster, J.W. Fulbright, Arthur Godfrey, Barry Goldwater, Alexander Haig, comedian Bob Hope, Townsend Hoopes II, J. Edgar Hoover, Hubert H. Humphrey, Clarence M. Kelley, Martin Luther King, Jr., John S. Knight, Kenneth Krakauer, Bowie Kuhn, W. Barton Leach, Clarence Mitchell, Dr. Wolfgang H.K. Panofsky, Elliot L. Richardson, James R. Schlessinger, Missouri Attorney General Fred M. Vinson, Roy Wilkins, and Secretary of the Air Force, General Eugene Zuckert, and Missouri Governors Smith, Blair, Bond, Dalton, and Hearnes.

Due to the overwhelming number of letters written to the Senator from 1953 to 1976 appealing for his assistance with individual Medicare problems, Social Security (OASI) cases, taxation, federal grants, and low-cost housing assistance, only a representative sample have been retained: those which either explain how each program operates or provide examples of rules of application.

In some cases, materials from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Farmer's Home Administration, and the Department of the Interior overlapped. Materials were retained on one subject for only one department. For example, grants were issued by the federal government for the construction of water treatment plants and other resource facilities by HEW, HUD, and the DOI. The material was retained only under one institution, HEW. Only Missouri specific Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) materials have been retained (OEO- St. Francois County, for example).

Senator Symington was known for writing advance letters to American ambassadors and consuls general whenever a family friend or family member traveled overseas, and on rare occasions, recommended tours. Selected correspondence between the individuals involved and Symington has been retained.

The series is arranged alphabetically by subject and chronologically within each folder. Letters are filed under the date of last correspondence, not originating date.

Baganoff Associates: Wrote numerous letters to Senator Symington, Congressman James Symington, and other Congressional members in protest of the awardance of an Air Force contract to a Canadian firm, alleging a cover-up by the Air Force. Only that correspondence directed to the Senator has been retained, 1973-1974

Balance of payments: Symington was concerned about the balance of trade figures from the earliest days of his tenure. He obtained advice from bankers, businessmen, economists, and from special research performed by the Library of Congress. Lists providing dates of Congressional statements made by the Senator on this subject from 1963 to 1967 are scattered throughout. Researchers are also directed to the Departments of Commerce and State, the Federal Reserve, and United States Treasury, which published several bulletins pertaining to this topic. As these documents are available elsewhere, they are not retained here. Nor are newspaper clippings, magazine articles, and copies of the Congressional Record. 1963-1973 (6 folders)

Boxcar shortage: During the 1960s, railroad boxcars were not returned to the Midwest from the East Coast in a timely manner resulting in a routine severe boxcar shortage in the Midwest and western states, especially bad during harvest time. Old boxcars were not replaced as fast as they wore out; the new, covered hopper cars could not be used on some railroad lines; and, record harvests of rice in the South exacerbated the situation. The Interstate Commerce Commission conducted a formal investigation in 1969. 1968-1970

Supersonic Transport (SST): Symington questioned the need for American development of a commercial supersonic aircraft, considering the project an unneeded waste of taxpayer money at a time when American involvement in Vietnam was consuming the national budget. He was also concerned with how the SST would impact already crowded airports, its impact on the environment, and whether the plane would be a commercial success. The aviation industry spent considerable time attempting to change the Senator's mind. Includes correspondence, environmental impact statements, official reports, position papers in support and against the SST, select Congressional floor speeches and committee testimony, and published material from the aviation industry, 1966-1971 (10 folders)

Audio and Video Recordings Series

Audio cassette recordings include interviews of Stuart Symington at Missouri radio and television stations, press conferences and speeches, Richard Nixon's resignation speech, a brief public service announcement for the Ileitis/Colitis Foundation (Evelyn Wadsworth Symington had colitis throughout the later years of her life), and a musical salute to the state of Missouri.

Of interest is a.c. 10. An unidentified constituent expounded at length on the influence of the Vatican in all aspects of American culture including education, politics and the election process, freedom of speech, and the Watergate scandal. The office staff inadvertently recorded over side one of this tape and the Senator is heard talking briefly in the background over the sounds of office activity followed by unidentified staffers discussing the difficulties in gaining admission to nationally ranked colleges and the quality of education in Missouri.

Audio discs include the 1960 presidential campaign song for John F. Kennedy performed by Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope's 1949 Christmas Shows at Elmendorf and Ladd Air Force bases in Alaska. Because of the rarity and physical condition of the Hope recordings (a.d. 9-13), only digital copies are available for use. Please note that due to severe damage, only portions of the Elmendorf Air Force Base three-record set could be saved. Recordings also include a pro-Symington interview with Congressman Richard Bolling at the 1960 Democratic presidential convention, a 1964 Presidential campaign song for Lyndon Baines Johnson, numerous interviews, speeches and press conferences, and comments made by Symington on the program World Affairs in relation to the Vietnam War.

In November 1962, an unidentified radio station in Kansas City interviewed Symington shortly after the Cuban Missile Crisis. The recordings (a.d. 28 and 29) provide a riveting overview of world events. Symington discusses the effects of the Cuban Missile Crisis on future U.S. foreign policy, considers whether the invasion of Kashmir (India) by Chinese forces and the attempts by the Soviet Union to place missiles in Cuba were connected, examines the relationship between the Soviet Union, China, and the U.S. at length, and explains the differences between Chinese, Albanian, and Russian communism.

Also includes rare discussions of the complexities of the relationship between Canada and the U.S., the economic importance of the European Common Market and Great Britain's possible entry into the organization, and agricultural problems and issues in the U.S. Most importantly, Symington expounds at length on the importance and significance of American involvement in South Vietnam. Before the end of the decade, Symington's view of Vietnam dramatically altered. Symington gave a similar speech in Fulton in October 1962 (a.d. 34 and 35).

The National Chamber of Commerce hosted a panel discussion on the importance of the 88th Congress on American business in January 1963 (a.d. 14-16). Moderated by Lawrence Spivak, the panel included Senators Symington, Hale Boggs (Louisiana), Everett Dirksen (Illinois), Barry Goldwater (Arizona), Hubert Humphrey (Minnesota), and Congressman Charles Halleck (Indiana). Following a brief speech by each participant, Spivak fielded questions to the panel submitted by himself and the audience. The three-record set includes discussion of Kennedy's domestic policies, economic conditions, federal bureaucracy, and a spirited examination of the need for tax reform.

Also included are rare recordings of speeches by Jean Paul Bradshaw, Symington's opponent during the 1964 election, select radio promotions prepared for the campaign, and a campaign appearance and interview with Republican Senator Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky.

Please note that the majority of recordings (red colored) are Voicewriter dictations. Although they appear to be 45 rpm, they are played at 33 1/3rd rpm. Sound quality for the vinyl recordings is average to poor with static and background noise but they are understandable.

Audio tape recordings include speeches by Vice-President Hubert Humphrey on Vietnam, a promotion for Lyndon Baines Johnson's 1964 presidential campaign, a memorial address presented after the assassination of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, interviews with Symington and John C. Danforth, speeches by Jean Paul Bradshaw, Symington's opponent in the 1964 Senatorial election, speeches by Vice President Hubert Humphrey during the 1968 presidential election, and numerous speeches by Symington.

Audio tapes 1 and 2 contain a two part interview of Symington by Bob Hardy of KMOX Radio. In part one, Symington provides a brief history of American economic assistance immediately following World War II and discusses its effects on the United States' focus on fighting communism. Symington examines the effect of American foreign policy expenditures on economic conditions at home and discusses the over-emphasis of economic assistance overseas as opposed to domestic expenditures. Symington also converses on the constitutional background of the American involvement in Vietnam and the war's effects on economic conditions. Tape 2 continues with further discussion of the Vietnam War, current (1970) conditions in the Middle East, and the campus unrest at Ohio State, and the shootings at Kent State and Jackson State College (Mississippi).

Hardy conducted a telephone interview with Symington (a.t. 3) in which the Senator comments on Richard Nixon's trip to China, the secrecy and cover-ups in the Nixon administration and cabinet, the covert operations in Cambodia and Laos in direct violation of Congressional wishes, and the separation of powers.

Of special interest is the 1974 interview of Symington by CBS news correspondents Bernard Shaw, Daniel Schorr, and Hal Walker at the height of the Watergate hearings (a.t. 6). The Senator expounds at length on the Watergate affair including the involvement of the Central Intelligence Agency and Federal Bureau of Investigation in the cover-up. Also discussed is Nixon's trip to Moscow, Henry Kissinger's de-facto acting as Secretary of State and his formal nomination for the position, and the lack of progress during the SALT II talks.

Audio tape 26 contains a 1960 presidential campaign speech given by Symington in Kalamazoo, Michigan. During the first half of the speech, Symington discusses the importance of equal rights for all citizens and the economic aspects of discrimination in employment and education. The second half focuses on the proposed establishment of a Foreign Service Academy, the opposition to the Academy from the State Department, and the lack of foreign language speakers within the State Department.

Throughout his career, Symington was very involved with NASA and space exploration. On 21 September 1963, Symington spoke at the American Assembly on Outer Space (a.t. 30-34). He discusses the successful launching of the Russian Sputnik satellite, examines the influence of the Russian Academy of Science on the Russian space programs and comments on the "space race." The Senator examines at length the history of the American space programs, delineates the technological developments arising from the exploration of space, and enumerates the direct and indirect benefits to American society. Audio tape 53 contains a record of the liftoff of Apollo 11 in July 1969, including the landing of the lunar vehicle on the moon's surface, Neil Armstrong's first words on the moon, and mission updates from the surface of the Moon.

In a radio interview in Springfield, Missouri, in December of 1961, Symington discusses the construction of the Berlin Wall, the survival of West Berlin, and the rights of citizens to freely move between West Germany and West Berlin at length (a.t. 37).

Audio tapes 58 and 59 contain 1960 presidential campaign statements by then Senator John F. Kennedy. He implores Americans to vote and he discusses his religious faith and its impact on his ability to serve if he is elected.

To counter allegations by the Danforth campaign organization during the 1970 general election, Symington stated that if re-elected, he would serve out his full term. The 60-second recorded statement was then mailed to radio stations across Missouri, including KBIC in Houston, KFVS, Cape Girardeau, KMMO, Marshall, KSIS, Sedalia, KWIX, Moberly, and KWOS, Jefferson City. A copy of the recorded statement sent to KCHI in Chillicothe has been retained (audio tapes 56 and 57).

Symington announced his retirement on 22 April 1975 at a press conference (a.t. 25) and discussed the reasons for his retirement, his record, and his plans for the future on audio tape 10.

Unless otherwise noted, tape speed for all audiotapes is 7½.

Film and video tape recordings include campaign spots mailed by the Democratic National Committee during the 1964 Presidential election, campaign spots for John F. Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson, interviews with Symington, a film produced by Prince (and later, King) Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia for Congress in 1973, a campaign film, The People Speak, produced prior to the 1964 presidential election and narrated by Gregory Peck, and three reels of a four part series on Missouri Governor James Thomas Blair, Jr. (part two is missing). After processing was completed, film reels 17, 20, 21, 22, and 23 were found to have vinegar syndrome and were copied onto DVD for preservation purposes. No equipment is available to view the quadruplex magnetic tapes at this time.
