Historical Note:

The First Christian Church was founded in Columbia, Missouri in 1832. The congregation had its roots in the Bear Creek Church north of Columbia and was composed of some of the city's most prominent citizens including Stephen and Elizabeth Bedford, Asa Stone, and Elizabeth Ramsey. Meetings were held at the Boone County Courthouse until 1838, when a brick church was built on North Seventh Street. The church moved to the corner of 10th and Walnut Streets in 1868. In 1892, the building was replaced with the present sanctuary. In 1929, the facilities were expanded to include the education building.

The church played a major role in the growing town of Columbia, helping to establish Christian College in 1851, the Bible College of Missouri in 1893, and the Lenoir Memorial Home in 1950. With an active youth group program, ministers were an important part of Christian student activities in Columbia throughout the twentieth century. In addition to local services, the church sponsored missionaries in India and Japan. The First Christian Church is affiliated with the Disciples of Christ International and the Missouri Association of Christian Churches, as well as numerous local organizations of churches and ministers.

In 1956, the church purchased land on West Broadway for the formation of Broadway Christian Church, which opened in 1957. It was incorporated in 1958, and the property was deeded to Broadway Christian Church from First Christian Church in 1959.

Several administrative bodies cooperate to manage the church: the Board of Elders, the Board of Deacons and Deaconesses, the Church Cabinet, the congregation as a whole, and several committees.

Arrangement:

The collection has been arranged into the following nine series:

Histories
Administrative
Ministers and Administrators
Publications
Financial
Clubs and Associations

Photographs

Affiliates

Audio Cassettes

Scope and Content Note:

The records document church activities since the establishment of the Bear Creek Church in 1824. Documentation of administrative boards and finances is fairly complete throughout the entire period until 1997. Documentation of youth group activities is most extensive from 1941 through 1964. In addition to office records, the collection includes yearbooks, congregational directories, publications, and booklets from the Disciples of Christ International Convention and annual meetings of the Missouri Association of Christian Churches.

The Histories series contains historical research notes, interview records, and written histories about the First Christian Church. These records include manuscripts and notes written by Mary K. Dains, interview records collected as research and as part of an oral history project, manuscript histories of the First Christian Church, and various notes. These files are arranged by Dains' original folder headings. Histories by the church's financial officer, A.C. Ragsdale, concern the history of the Laymen's League and Men's Work in Missouri. See also the Audio Cassettes series.

The Administrative series contains operating records, subdivided by format and subject. Documents come mainly from the files of Ragsdale and ministers Edward Coffman and Eldon Drennan. Papers of Reverend Clarence E. Lemmon (1888-1963) are also included, as well as miscellaneous materials with an unclear office of origin. The series is arranged alphabetically by format or subject. Minutes frequently include attachments such as financial statements and reports on club activities. The minute book of the Bear Creek Church and the record book of the Construction Committee are located in this series.

The Ministers and Administrators series contains subject files of church administrators and ministers, arranged alphabetically by last name, then alphabetically by subject. Ed Coffman and Eldon Drennan were both primarily involved with youth activities such as the Christian Student Congregation, so most of their papers deal with this subject. Drennan's papers also include personal papers and records of his work in Marshalltown, Iowa and Hannibal, Missouri. Papers of Reverend Sam Langley include correspondence and an Easter Day sermon. The papers of C.E. Lemmon, perhaps the most notable minister in the church's recent history, contain essays, sermons, and subject files on various special issues and short-term projects. For more information, consult the C.E. Lemmon Papers (C3472). A.C. Ragsdale's papers concern his work on various matters unrelated to his management of the church's finances.

The Publications series contains yearbooks, directories, programs, and periodicals which were mostly prepared by the First Christian Church. Newspaper clippings and literature from other affiliated organizations are also included in this series. This series is arranged alphabetically by title and format, then chronologically.

The Financial series contains financial reports, budgets, account books, and other materials related to the finances of the church. These records include records of estates donated to the church. Arrangement is alphabetical by format.

The Clubs and Associations series is arranged alphabetically by the name of the club or organization. Records dealing with student activities, women's activities, and men's activities are the most voluminous, but the records of other clubs and organizations are also included. Records of the Christian Student Congregation document social events, camping trips, and other activities of this vibrant student organization. Records of the Christian Women's Fellowship and Women's Council document the sponsorship of missionaries and other activities of church women. Records of Men's Work document the formation of the Laymen's League and other activities of men in the church.

The Photographs series includes all photographs, lantern slides, and negatives not tied to a specific records series elsewhere in this collection. These photographs include images of the church, congregation, and ministers. Lantern slides contain images of Christian College, the University of Missouri, Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Missouri, and William Woods College in Fulton, Missouri during the 1920s.

The Affiliates series contains records of organizations affiliated with the First Christian Church and are arranged alphabetically. These include programs from the Disciples of Christ International Conference and various records of the Missouri Association of Christian Churches. Records of Student Religious Council and University Religious Council document Christian youth activities held in Columbia. Records of the United Campus Christian Fellowship contain information on this organization's activities for Christian youth in Missouri and nationwide.

The Audio Cassettes series largely contains recorded interviews and oral histories conducted by Mary K. Dains.
