Historical Note:

Helen Hickman was born July 20, 1908, in Union, Missouri, to William Brownlow Hickman (1869-1945) and Eulalia "Lyda" McGrew Hickman (1869-1925). Helen had four siblings: Bertie L. Hickman Beeny (1898-1972), Howard Hickman (1903-1958), Nova Hickman (1911-1992), and Elizabeth "Beth" Hickman Carter (1914-2002). By coincidence, Beth Hickman married a man named W.R. Carter who was no relation to William Ray Carter. In the 1930s, Helen earned a master's degree in education while teaching in a one-room schoolhouse in southwest Missouri.

William Ray "W.R." Carter was born on April 13, 1896, in Monroe County, Missouri, to James William and Cora Agnes Crosswhite Carter. He had three siblings: James Langdon Carter (1897-1923), George Bennie Carter (1904-1975), and Linnie Nadine Witte (1907-1992). The family lived on a farm and then moved to town when William was young. William graduated from Centralia High School and attended the University of Missouri, eventually earning his Ph.D. in Education in June 1931. He taught in rural schools in Centralia, Brunswick, and Dawn, before becoming a professor of Education at the University of Missouri-Columbia. His research specialty was intelligence and aptitude testing.

Helen Hickman and William Ray Carter married on August 5, 1939. They had two children, William Jefferson "Jeff" Carter, born 1941, and Lyda F. Carter, born 1943. The family lived in Columbia, Missouri. William Ray Carter died on May 23, 1960, after which Helen attended the University of Missouri-Columbia library school, going on to work as a librarian at the University of Missouri library. Helen had been weaving since the 1950s and after retirement became active in the Columbia Weaver's and Spinner's Guild. She was also an avid gardener and member of the Columbia Horticultural Society. In 1965, Helen's sister Nova moved in with her in Columbia, and the two lived together until Nova's death in 1992. Helen, Nova, and Lyda traveled extensively in the American west from the 1960s-1980s, taking photographs of their travels. Helen Hickman Carter died on May 5, 1995.

William Jefferson "Jeff" Carter married Velma Zonge in 1964. They had four children and lived in Minnesota. Lyda Carter and her partner, Robin Kaufman, adopted two sons, Josh and Andy, and lived in Chicago, Illinois. Lyda earned her master's degree in library science from Indiana University and worked at the Chicago Public Library before attending McCormick Theological Seminary and becoming a counselor at Good Shepherd Parish Metropolitan Community Church. She was active in the labor and women's rights movements. Lyda died in 1997.

Arrangement:

The collection has been arranged into the following 2 series:

Documents
Photographs, Negatives, Slides, and Scrapbooks

Scope and Content Note:Documents

This series contains materials related to both the Hickman and Carter families, including Civil War pension documents of Martha Hickman relating to the service of her husband John D. Hickman; correspondence written to Helen and William Ray Carter from family and friends; school-related materials from Helen and William Ray; and William's academic research from his time as a professor at the University of Missouri. The research includes information about academic aptitude and college admissions, and intelligence testing, as well as the publication A Study of Certain Mathematical Abilities in High School Physics, written by William Ray Carter. A small number of documents related to Lyda and William Jefferson Carter, such as diplomas, wedding invitations, letters, and grade reports, are also included.

Photographs, Negatives, Slides, and Scrapbooks

This series makes up the bulk of the collection and consists of photographs of various members of the Hickman and Carter families, scrapbooks created by Helen Hickman Carter, and slides from the family's travels west as well as slides images of family and friends, weaving events, and flowers. Photographs are grouped by individuals or family.

Carter family photographs include images of the James William Carter and Cora Agnes Crosswhite Carter family and their home; and images of James William's brother Benjamin Thomas Carter, his wife Nettie Bailey Carter, and their family. Photographs from Helen's side of the family are more extensive and include images of the McGrew family on her mother's side and the Hickman family on her father's side but mainly consist of photos of Helen and her siblings. Some of these photographs are unidentified. Helen's 1920-1938 scrapbook mostly documents her years as a teacher and includes both photos and ephemera. Her gardening scrapbook contains no photos but rather clippings and diary entries regarding progress in her garden over the course of two years. Two letters from Lyda are also included in this. Modern photo albums of Helen's dating from the 1970s-1995 document her close relationship with her sisters and with Lyda and her family. Visits with Jeff and his family are also documented, and a number of black and white photos of children taken and developed by Jeff are included. The photo albums also include images of Helen's garden and weavings. The collection also includes photos of Beth Hickman Carter's son Richard, his wife Rita, and their children, Karen, Jill, and Julia Kay; and some images of Bertie Lee Hickman Beeny's family, including her daughter Rosalee. Images of Helen, W.R., Lyda, and Jeff Carter together are scant.

Slides include a couple of images of Helen and W.R. together but mostly document Helen's life with Nova from the 1970s on, including images of Jeff Carter with his family, visits to various family members, Christmases, birthdays, and grandchildren. More images of Jeff Carter and his family appear as slides, while Lyda Carter's family is more well-documented in the photographs. The collection contains numerous slides taken during Helen, Nova, and Lyda's trips out west in 1968 and 1969, as well as trips from the 1960s-1980s to Niagara Falls, the Smoky Mountains, Florida, New Orleans, Seattle, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Glacier National Park. Columbia Weavers and Spinners Guild slides are mostly images of exhibits at the Midwest Weavers Conferences. One set of slides documents weavings displayed at the Western Illinois University library in Macomb, Illinois, and another set documents an exhibit at the St. Louis Art League. Very few of the slides are individually labeled, with the exception of the 1968 trip west. Slide sheets are labeled according to the box the slides were found in.
