Louis Edward Holland (1878-1960) Papers

ca. 1916-1960

210 cubic feet

Papers documenting the public career of Louis E. Holland, long-time friend of President Harry S. Truman. Holland, a Kansas City businessman, was actively involved in national transportation issues-particularly the automobile and airplane, advertising and publishing.

BIOGRAPHY:

Louis Edward Holland was born in Parma, New York, June 20, 1878. He was educated in the public schools in Rochester, New York. In 1901 Holland married Adelia Garrett. The next year they moved to Kansas City where Holland, a machinist who learned photo-engraving on the job at the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, had a position with Thompson and Slaughter Engraving Company. Soon he went to work for Teachenor and Bartberger, the largest engraving business in Kansas City. He built a reputation of quality work for the local advertising agencies, many of whom contributed monies to help him organize the Holland Engraving Company in 1916.

Holland was president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, 1925-27; and managing director, 1928-31. During his tenure with the Chamber, Holland: helped get Kansas City on the first air mail route by contract carriers; promoted the establishment of the Kansas City Municipal Airport; and convinced an airline, the forerunner of Trans World Airlines (TWA) to establish their headquarters here. Holland was president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, 1922-25, and chairman of the committee that set up the National Better Business bureau.

In December of 1929, Adelia Holland died after a long illness. Their four children were: Vera, Norma, Garratt, and Helen. Holland married Edna Peterson, his long-time secretary at Holland Engraving Co., on September 10, 1933. Unfortunately she contracted a serious illness and died August 3, 1934. In 1936 he married Lorance McKiddy, advertising and merchandise manager for the Kansas City Power and Light Co., and vice president of the Advertising club.

During World War II, Holland was named deputy chairman of the War Production Board and first chairman of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, 1942-43; He was president of the Mid Central War Resources Board in 1941; chairman of the Mayors Aviation Advisory Board, 1945-47; and member of the Advisory Council, Department of Commerce. Holland was president of the American Automobile Association, 1949-52, and vice-president of the Federation of International Automobile Clubs.

In 1945 Holland became chairman of the board of Holland Engraving. His brother, William H. Holland became president, and his son, Garrett Holland became vice-president.

Louis E. Holland died on May 25, 1960.
