International Relations Council (IRC) Records

1953-1997

20 cubic feet

Organizational records of the Kansas City based International Relations Council, which educates and advocates for understanding among nations.

HISTORY:

The International Relations Council was founded in 1954 in Kansas City, Missouri, in an effort to broaden and deepen the understanding of international affairs among the citizens of the greater Kansas City area and to emphasize the role of the responsible adult in the formulation, development, and conduct of United States foreign policy.

To that end, the Council sponsors, in conjunction with various other Kansas City organizations, a number of guest lectures each year at which speakers of national and international distinction present their ideas to the Kansas City public. The Council also sponsors an annual "Great Decisions" forum in which a series of closely spaced lectures are devoted to in-depth exploration of a particular facet of international relations.
