The collection contains correspondence, programs, flyers, and newspaper articles related to the City Movie Center, an alternative film theater in Kansas City, Missouri.

In the summer of 1980, Bob and Judy Pest established the City Movie Center, an alternative film theater, in Kansas City, Missouri. The theater opened in the spring of 1981 showcasing documentaries, animated children's films, experimental classics, Hollywood favorites, foreign films, American independents, and films about blues and jazz. By 1982, due to financial difficulties, the theater transitioned to a not-for-profit entity receiving funding from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Missouri Arts Council.
