Introduction

Approximately 8 cubic feet

The collection consists of publications and records related to the Trans World Airlines (TWA) Active Retired Pilots Association (TARPA). Additional materials include labor agreements, photographs of pilots, and seniority lists.

Trans World Airlines (TWA) Active Retired Pilots Association (TARPA) was founded in 1979 by a group of retired TWA pilots. The organization was created to provide a social, recreational, and non-profit entity whose goal was to help its members stay connected with former TWA employees and to assist pilots nearing retirement. In the fall of 2015, the organization changed its name to TWA Retired Pilots Association.
