Minkin Real Estate Company Records

[Jewish Community Archives]

1976-2006

101 cubic feet, oversize

Administrative records of a long standing real estate company in Kansas City area. Includes transaction files; surveys; floor plans; sketches; aerial photographs; correspondence; marketing materials, primarily printed advertising brochures of various properties offered by the Company; and real estate listings of various brokers.

HISTORY:

Minkin Real Estate Company was founded by Rodney T. Minkin in early 1978. It has operated continuously since that date. Rodney Minkin's grandfather, Philip Minkin, and his brothers and Rodney's father and his brothers were also in the real estate business, but they were primarily commercial and residential builders. They began in the early 1900's, reaching their high point during the 1920's. They built numerous apartment buildings and upper bracket homes. By 1935, the great depression had, for the most part, wiped out the family business. Minkin Real Estate Company is totally separate from the earlier construction company.

Prior to 1974, Rodney T. Minkin was a Certified Public Accountant, as a partner in Touche Ross & Co., now known as Deloitte & Touche, LLP. From about 1974 through 1977, he was associated with Roger L. Cohen & Co., commercial and industrial real estate brokers. He began Minkin Real Estate Company with only himself in a small office in Commerce Tower, 911 Main Street, Kansas City, Missouri. His office expanded and at one time had several other sales associates.

Minkin Real Estate Company is primarily a commercial and industrial real estate broker. They buy, sell and lease properties for others. They do not handle single family residential properties; do little property management, and no real estate development. They do not originate or service mortgages, or engage in financing or syndication.

Rodney T. Minkin served as the 1989 president of the Metropolitan Kansas City, Missouri Board of Realtors, and received their Realtor Broker of the Year award in 1991. He chairs their commercial division professional standards (arbitration) committee. He served as 1991 president of the Western Missouri-Kansas Chapter of the Society of Industrial and Office Realtors. He served as a director and on several committees of the Missouri Association of Realtors, and is a member of the National Association of Realtors.

Minkin and the liquidation of the Company if those events occur prior to the expiration of that ten-year period).
