These are the record books of the Tri-State Rebekah Association. The Association, founded in 1904, was composed of lodges of the Daughters of Rebekah in southeastern Kansas, northeastern Oklahoma, and southwestern Missouri. The records include printed programs and minutes of the annual sessions of the Association.

The annual sessions of the Tri-State Rebekah Association were attended by the officers of the Rebekah associations of the states of Kansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri, and by delegates from various local lodges. Different local lodges also hosted the annual session. The Association had its own officers selected from the ranks of past leaders of the state associations. The day-long sessions followed the rituals of the Rebekah Lodge. In addition to prayer and song, the meetings featured addresses by the leaders of the state associations, news concerning the state homes operated by the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges, communications from the national headquarters of the Rebekahs, and reports by standing committees of the Tri-State Association.

Annual sessions were held in the fall of each year. There were no meetings in 1918 or 1919 due to the influenza epidemic. There were no meetings in 1922 or 1923, but the reasons are not specified. Lists of the lodges comprising the Tri-State Association may be found at the end of Volume 2.
