Historical Note:

The Joplin Globe is still the leading newspaper of Jasper County, Missouri. During the heyday of the mining period in the Tri-State Mining District, the Globe was the most informative local source for the prices of lead and zinc ore, innovations in mining and milling, and trends in the mineral industries. At the beginning of each year, the newspaper published a comprehensive summary of the previous year's activity in the Tri-State.

Arrangement:

The collection has been arranged in its original order.

Scope and Content Note:

This collection contains two editions of the Joplin Globe's annual mining magazine. They feature articles on the city of Joplin, local businesses, schools and other civic matters, workmen's compensation and other topics of interest to miners, the future of mining in the Tri-State District, and general mining trends in the United States. Each issue includes lists of the leading producers in the district, summaries of annual lead and zinc production for Oklahoma, Missouri, and Kansas, and comparative summaries of previous annual outputs. Each edition also carries an alphabetical directory of mining firms in the district, along with illustrated advertisements for many of the firms and allied enterprises in Joplin, Missouri, Baxter Springs and Treece, Kansas, and Cardin, Miami, and Picher, Oklahoma. Both issues were printed on newsprint and have been bound in library bindings. They are arranged in chronological order.
