Historical Note:

Newburg, Missouri was founded in 1883 by the St. Louis-San Francisco Company as a division point for the railroad. Up to 1911 the Newburg school district offered only two years of high school. In 1921, high school classes moved into a four-room building. As additional space was needed classes were held in nearby homes and the Methodist Church basement. By using WPA labor a stone school building was completed in 1941.
